

Seeing better. Delivering better.

Better means something different to each supply chain. Discover how Morgan can deliver that value to you.

What We Do

Morgan helps the world's most admired and complex manufacturers see their supply chain better and deliver better results. Whether your challenge is great on-time performance, cost savings or seamless orchestration across suppliers, we have the experience and expertise to help you achieve it.

Better Ground Transportation

Most shippers settle for pre-configured transportation schedules and routing. We think there's a better way for manufacturers to create efficient truckload and less-than-truckload solutions.

Morgan listens to your unique needs, then designs and implements operations that transform your shipments into orchestrated network movement.

Specialized Transportation

Our global team monitors every shipment—oversize, overweight, special handling requirements and critical delivery schedule—to ensure standards.

Morgan's specialized transportation experience includes:

- Capital tools and equipment
- Factory construction modules
- Permitted loads
- Data center and sensitive tech goods
- Live and continuous monitoring

Network Design and Optimization

Morgan's network design starts with data. Decades of real-world experience help us recognize patterns and opportunities for better service and savings. With Morgan, data becomes insights and insights become action. Areas that we can audit and improve include:

- Airfreight shipments
- Air / ground coordination

- Ocean / ground coordination
- LTL and express movement
Inbound and outbound manufacturing transportation
- Potential mode shifts

Supply Chain Control Towers

When was the last time that enterprise software solved your operational and strategic planning needs all by itself? At Morgan, we deploy state-of-the-art IT. But we also recognize that it takes better people to drive better results. Here are just some of the control tower services that help Morgan clients win in the supply chain.

Why We're the Choice for You

When you rely on Morgan, you're partnering with the trusted provider that creates and executes better supply chain solutions for the world's most admired manufacturing supply chains. Morgan is a strategic supplier to multiple "Gartner Top Supply Chain" and Forbes "Global 2000" enterprises.

Over nearly 35 years of experience, Morgan has been honored with 35 awards for innovation, network design and technology. We've also received seven sustainability awards, recognizing our initiatives to achieve double-digit reductions in emissions for our clients.

Supply Chain Optimization

Morgan has the real-world experience and expertise to streamline supply chains with new and collaborative approaches. We can help you bring better to your finance, operations, IT support and more.

Financial Optimization

What if you didn't have to worry about the cost of inventory? You could take advantage of strategic sourcing to buy goods in bulk and then keep them where they'll be needed in the future. And, you would unlock the ability to consolidate shipments, regionalize distribution and shift to cheaper, more sustainable modes of transportation.

Morgan pioneered outsourced inventory ownership with its Inventory On Demand service and supply chain finance tools. We also partner with Taulia, an SAP company that's the leader in supply chain fintech, for additional services.

Operations Support

How effective could your ops team be if they weren't busy solving problems all the time?

Morgan's global control tower team manages supply chain operations 24 x 7 x 365 for some of the world's most admired manufacturers. Our approach combines the best of human expertise and tech automation to identify and solve issues as early as possible. We also have developed the automated tools to maintain visibility, identify possible exceptions and connect with ERPs and other critical supply chain nodes.

IT Support

Morgan's award-winning IT team has the tech savvy and supply chain experience to help you make faster, better integrations with your partners. In an environment where development resources are constrained and costs are high, clients can trust Morgan's IT services. Our team creates application programming interfaces (APIs), connections to enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems and custom tech services for supply chain and manufacturing clients.

Consulting Services

There's a reason why so many "Gartner Top Supply Chain" and Forbes Global 2000 manufacturers rely on Morgan to continuously redefine better. We have honed our expertise in some of the most complex, multi-party transportation environments. The Morgan team can put that knowledge to work for you with services like:

- Ground transportation evaluation
- Transportation optimization
- RFP consulting
- RFP analytics
